

December 9, 2009 - Italy – Preventive System and Human Rights: the educational challenge of the Third Millennium

(ANS – Rome) – In the Chapter Hall of the Italian Senate in Rome on December 14, in the presence of the president of the Extraordinary Commission for the Safeguarding and Promotion of Human Rights, Senator Pietro Marcenaro and Fr. Pascual Chavez, there will be a presentation entitled “The Preventive System and Human Rights: The Educational Challenge of the Third Millennium.”

In the course of the meeting the Acts and a “multimedia box” in seven languages produced following the International Congress “Preventive System and Human Rights,” held in Rome January 2-6, 2009, will be presented. This material gathering together the results of the International Congress is further proof of the commitment of the Salesian Family to education in human rights and the promotion and protection of the rights of children and young people, testimony of how Don Bosco’s Preventive System is always relevant.

Chairing the presentation will be Giorgio Zanchini, journalist and radio commentator. Those due to speak are Senator Pietro Marcenaro, Fr. Chavez, Senator Carlo Giovanardi, undersecretary of the Presidency of the Council of Ministers, Carola Carazzone from the Human Rights Office of the International Volunteer Movement for Development (VIS), and Davide Demichelis, author and a director of Missioni Don Bosco.